Hi everyone,

New books galore! We're extending our booklist to include a section on Astrology and Wicca - keep an eye on our website for further details and do let us know of any worthy titles that should join the list.

Our customer database is growing so fast now that it is becoming impractical to send out paper mailshots, so in keeping with 21st century technology (yes - at last!) we're going to start sending out updates and newflashes by email. We will only be using them to alert you to new books that have come out, the contents of the latest TMA and anything else that won't wait until the next TMA mail out. If you would like to be added to our contact list please either email us at info@wessexastrologer.com or go to the website and fill in your details where indicated. We promise not to bombard you with emails!

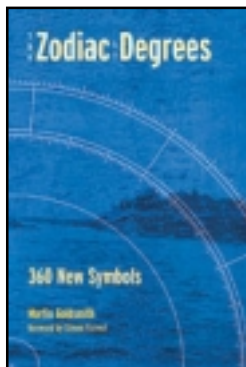

Mythic Astrology Applied

by

Ariel Guttman and Kenneth Johnson

A welcome addition to the booklist, coming as it does from the authors of 'Mythic Astrology', one of most frequently requested books of late - which is also back in print now. This new title is completely accessible to non-astrologers, but explores in depth the myths, gifts and challenges of the planets and includes an extensive look at the archetypes of Gaia, Chiron and the major asteroids. An appendix includes a discussion of many of the minor asteroids, including Psyche and Pan. £21.00 plus postage.

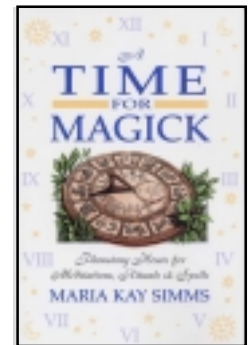

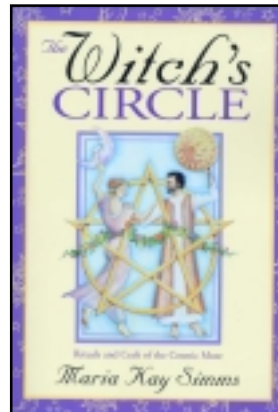

The Witch's Circle

by

Maria Kay Simms

Previously published as 'Circle of the Cosmic Muse', this popular book uses the deep insights of astrology to understand better the ancient spiritual mysteries of Wicca. It includes a whole chapter on the use of astrology and ritual, with particular attention to the elements and the Four Directions, and the Eightfold Cycle of Transformation. Interesting reading and a good introduction to Wicca. £16.99 plus postage.

A Time for Magic

by

Maria Kay Simms

Despite the title, this is almost entirely an astrology book that demonstrates how to use planetary transits and cycles to their greatest effect. Very useful also for beginners as it demystifies the history and calculation of planetary hours - which up until recently have become pretty much neglected but are only sensible to use when electing a moment to take action if you know how to do it. Worthy addition to any bookshelf. £10.99 plus postage.

THE ZODIAC BY DEGREES: 360 New Symbols

by Martin Goldsmith (Reviewed by Paul F. Newman)

A brilliant new book on pictorial degree symbols, although the subtitle "360 New Symbols" is a slight misnomer. The author Martin Goldsmith was one of a dedicated band of degree symbol enthusiasts who met in Washington for over twenty years from the 1970s to the 90s discussing the deeper ramifications of the Sabian symbols, so this book is by no means a hasty gimmick, having more genuine trial and study behind it than any other book on this subject I have seen. Even the erudite astrologer Steven Forrest, who wrote the Foreword, admits that he had not personally realised how far back in history the creation of degree symbols stretched (Ptolemaic Egypt at least). To those who may come across zodiac degree images for the first time here, rest assured there is probably no better and more reliable reference than this. £25.00 plus postage.
