Purveyor, publisher and distributor of fine astrology books

We are constantly on a quest to discover great new books, but there is as they say, very little new under the Sun, and it is easy to become bored with books that regurgitate the same old stuff. After huge amounts of effort burning the midnight oil, and with thanks to our dear friends at TMA for bringing them to our attention, we have presented a few interesting titles here which we hope offer a new perspective on old ideas.

The AA conference at York beckons and we will be running the bookstall as well as our own stand, so we hope to see you there. For more information go to www.astrologicalassociation.com.

Mercury Retrograde - Its Myth and Meaning

by Pythia Peay

£12.99 plus postage

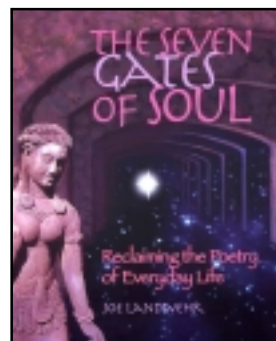

Newly received from our distributor, this book takes a refreshing approach to the planet we love to hate during its more challenging retrograde periods. The author takes time to recount personal episodes of frustration (which we can all relate to!) as well as more indepth sections taking in the findings of other astrologers, mythology and a religious perspective, plus of course the obligatory but good cookbook section which is mercifully small but succinct. Very readable and enjoyable.

The Seven Gates of the Soul - Reclaiming the Poetry of Everyday Life

by Joe Landwehr

£21.99 plus postage

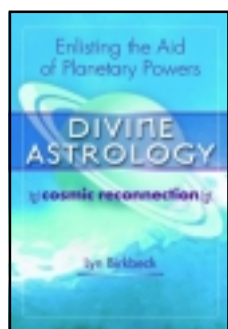

In this illuminating book, maverick philosopher/astrologer Joe Landwehr traces a fascinating history of ideas about the soul. Using the goddess Inanna's passage through the seven gates as a metaphor, the author explores the barriers to a true understanding erected by religion, philosophy, psychology and science. Discover how to connect with the deepest, wisest part of yourself, while learning why we have come to think of ourselves in the way we have, over the course of six millennia. A challenging but very worthwhile read.

Divine Astrology - Enlisting the Aid of Planetary Powers

by Lyn Birkbeck

£17.99 plus postage

This long awaited offering from the popular Lyn Birkbeck presents astrology in its true sense as a spiritual rather than predictive system. It sees personality as being an expression of Spirit, and life as being a journey of Spirit driven by cosmic forces and governed by definite laws. Seen in this way the user is no longer simply a hapless puppet of the astrological influences prevailing at birth and through life. He or she is seen as an entity who can become in tune with the very energies that are the stuff of astrology, the Planetary Powers. Through the use of 40 full colour cards, the seeker is shown ways to resolve problems, gain support, receive enlightenment and become empowered.

Understanding Interceptions - A Key to Unlocking the Door

by Chris McRae

£16.99 plus postage

Chris McRae is speaking at the AA conference in York, so now is a good time to remind you about her comprehensive book on interceptions. Chris has lived most of her life at high latitudes so this has become her specialist area. Very little is written about this subject and it is interesting to read her observations and case histories to see how her subjects have been affected. A well informed and useful book.
