Declination in Astrology -
The Steps of the Sun
Paul Newman £15.95 plus p&p
What is the shortest day? Why does it take so long for the Sun to come up again after the shortest day? Did you know that most of our pagan festivals are associated with the path of the Sun? This lovely book is sure to fascinate both astrologers and non-astrologers and is a great idea for Christmas.

Your Horoscope in Your Hands
Lorna Green £9.50 plus p&p
Hands up - who's fascinated by hands? Another great idea for Christmas. Written by astrologer/palmist Lorna Green, the first half of the book helps you identify the lines and hand shapes, and what they mean, while the second half looks at them in terms of the themes indicated in your chart. Amazing how one echoes the other.

Astrology & Meditation
Greg Bogart
£12.50 plus p&p

A beautiful and gentle book for these strange and challenging times. Greg Bogart approaches astrology as a form of active meditation where we contemplate whatever is arising with expectancy, receptivity, and conscious will to shape what unfolds. He ends the book with a discussion of astrology as a spiritual practice that can instill qualities such as discernment, humour and an expanded capacity to love.
